REPEAL OF SECRECY HELPS THE TRUSTS HITS SMALL MAN

OPENS BOOKS AND BUSINESS TO MERCY OF BIG COMPETITOR
LACK ENTHUSIASM
Outlook for Three Days and Over With Not at All Hopeful.

Madison.—That the three or four days declared to be the length of time for the special session will be more likely to extend over a period of 10 days or two weeks seems probable. On the other hand, there will be a large number of senators and assemblymen here who are not at all anxious to stay in Madison a day longer than necessary. They get nothing for it, and the cost of living here is not appealing. They get mileage, it is true, but it is barely enough to pay the board. The governor's special session is about as popular as a shark at a swimming party.

How It Won't Go
There is about as much enthusiasm over the session as there is when a man gets a piece of ice down his neck. News from the back townships is not at all reassuring. Each of the members will have to explain to his constituents that he had no power or parcel in making more expense for the taxpayers. So far as the governor is concerned, he would like to have the wheels all stop and the session end. He is not at all anxious to see the session end. He is not at all anxious to see the session end. He is not at all anxious to see the session end.

Small, Firms Oppose
Strange to say, the big corporations are not seriously opposed to the governor's program. The representative of one of the largest manufacturing plants in the state said Saturday that he "didn't give a hoot" whether the bills passed or not. There is utter indifference about it except among the smaller and newer companies and firms and individuals. Here is where the shoe pinches, and here is what they say about the governor's program:
"To permit anybody and everybody to scrutinize the tax reports of all the companies, firms or individuals, will be to put upon the state a burden which is heavier than the smaller, competing companies. The big fellows will have access to the reports of the smaller, and will be able to discover the weak points and go after them where they are most vulnerable. Don't expect to hear from the smaller companies, but the big ones have influence, conditions of credit, a hundred items which in a competitive war of value, to the dominating position, will be a decided advantage. It will make it harder for the smaller manufacturers and dealer to go ahead when all the secrets of his business are disclosed to the scrutiny of the state. It is a very serious matter."

Six Killed as Interurban Car Smashes Auto

Detroit.—Edward H. Ives, assistant general superintendent of the Detroit Edison Co., was killed Sunday morning when his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Ives, three of their children, their ages ranging from 18 months to 7 years, and Miss Clara Stasiewicz, 14, a wife of the family, were killed when their automobile was struck by an interurban car Sunday morning.

The tragedy occurred on the local covered road, near the Ives automobile. The car was struck by the interurban car and was crushed. The car was struck by the interurban car and was crushed. The car was struck by the interurban car and was crushed.

Bandits Loot Theater Till

Los Angeles.—Two bandits walked into the office of the California theater, in the heart of the downtown district here Sunday night, and robbed the office safe of the day's receipts, estimated at between $10,000 and $12,000, according to reports to the police.

A Day's Work

One house sold, three rented; one farm rented; two autos sold; two lots sold; seven rooms rented; innumerable small transactions. Just one day's results from the classified advertising page. And it is not out of the ordinary occurrence—the same things happen every day.

REAR THE HARVEST

Murder, Larceny, Assault Blamed on Female 'Fagin'

Chicago.—Through the arrest of two boys and the mother of one of them, the police Monday believed they have broken up the most unscrupulous and unscrupulous group of criminals in the city.

The boys, Charles Shadr, 19, and Frank Lee, 15, were held with Shadr's mother in connection with crimes ranging from larceny and criminal assault on a mute woman, to murder. Mrs. Shadr was declared by the police to be a female 'fagin', who directed the vice activities of the youths and forced them into a life of crime.

Husband, Daughter Slain
Some time ago Mr. Shadr, the woman's husband, was found shot to death in his home, a large pistol by his side. A few days ago, Margaret Shadr, 16-year-old sister of Charles, was found shot to death with the same pistol by her side. The police said she killed herself when she was refused permission to marry Lee, the boy arrested with Shadr and his mother. Lee is a mulatto but the Shadr family is white.

Assemblyman Matheson Not to Attend Special Session

Assemblyman Alexander E. Matheson will not be present at the special session of the legislature. This information was received in Janesville Monday morning.

Mr. Matheson went away to rest on Feb. 12 intending to return to Janesville at Easter. He feels that his presence is not so vital to the result of the special session as to necessitate his coming home a month ahead of his schedule. Leaving Claremont, Cal., on the 27th of this month, the Rock county assemblyman will make a number of stops at interesting places en route home.

When the secrecy bill was up in the assembly last winter, Mr. Matheson voted against the measure. of the special session as to necessitate his coming home a month ahead of his schedule. Materials Prices Invite Building of New Homes

Prices of materials entering into the construction of a home are practically at the bottom.

Construction materials men, plumbers, electricians and hardware men are agreed upon this point. Their chorus advice is if a man has the money, or can get it, he will find the present a most auspicious time to put up his dwelling.

One lumber man goes so far as to declare homes built under present prices are a good investment for in his belief the trend of prices may be upward thus increasing value of any new property.

Before going into detail with respect to material prices, H. J. Darr,

2 MORE CHARGES

Reckless Driving and Dry Law Violation Charges up Tuesday.

Detroit.—John Duvall Dodge, possessor of a fortune of $1,600,000, left the Detroit House of Correction Monday morning with $8 in pocket, having completed a five day prison sentence for automobile speeding.

His release came at 8 a. m. and was carried out with the greatest secrecy at the request of the prisoner. Dodge was taken to the rear of the house of correction, allowed to slip unobserved through a backdoor, and was whisked away in a prison automobile to the home of his father-in-law.

At 8 a. m. Tuesday, he must appear in court at Kalamazoo and face a charge of reckless driving following a mid-night automobile ride recently, during which Miss Emma E. Keweenaw, Western State Normal student, jumped from Dodge's car and sustained serious injuries.

Dodge is scheduled to be arraigned Tuesday on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. It is alleged, he carried liquor on the joy ride.

Julius Immater Human.
Dodge put in several hours Sunday writing an article for the Detroit House of Correction newspaper, "Progress," published by the prisoners. Dodge's article follows in part:

"Your conception and my conception of prison life have been decided by the conditions. The conditions of the prison are such that the inmates are not human beings, but are treated as beasts. We are treated as beasts. We are treated as beasts. We are treated as beasts.

The foreman reported the jury was "hopelessly divided" and after each of the nine men and three women who composed it had been asked separately and had confirmed the foreman's report, Judge Reeve discharged them to their homes.

The foreman, T. W. Crockett, told the court the division was 9 to 3 and had stood from the first to the fifth and final ballot.

WOMEN MARRYING TO ESCAPE OVER RUSSIAN BORDER

Odessa.—"Marriage to the frontier only is one of the new forms of commerce in business. Women are willing to pay handsomely those foreigners who, by virtue of their passports, may pass freely into Rumania, Germany, or other countries and stake with them women passing as their wives.

As Russian subjects, neither men nor women may easily get permission to leave Russia and, if so, the other countries will not receive them.

Subjects of Turkey and other Moslem countries engaged in this marriage business take out four wives at a time, the number allowed by their marriage laws.

Sometimes such marriages of the moment are unimpaired. The Rumanian of a Bukhara lady beauty succeeded in getting out and the planned for his wife to marry a town official for the journey. The official fell in love with the woman and insisted that she remain as his legal wife, as she had in fact become through her own declaration before the local soviet marriage bureau.

Osgard, La Follette Progressive Organizer Here to Form Club.

Rapping the United Progressive association of Wisconsin, formed here last year and since branched out in other parts of the state, as confuting the political issue, J. E. Osgard, Madison, secretary of the La Follette Progressive organization, addressed 100 Janesville railroad men at the East Side Odd Fellows hall Sunday afternoon. He was preceded by Phillip La Follette, son of the United States senator, who urged the government operation of the railroads as the only way to obtain better rates and better wages. The meeting was under auspices of Local 710, Brotherhood Locomotive Engineers.

Attacks Conservatives
Prefacing his talk with the declaration that in this country, while the banking, railroad, oil, coal and mining interests control economic affairs, Mr. Osgard pleaded for support of the La Follette movement by the "common man" more opportunity. He declared the efforts of the United Progressives who he said call themselves sane and progressive and the rest of the line.

Return of Yankee Forces by July 1, Department Plan

Washington.—Orders directing the return to the United States by July 1, of all American troops now on the Rhine, were issued Monday by Secretary Weeks.

The order includes the return by the end of the fiscal year of the entire force of approximately two thousand men excepted from the previous order of several weeks ago under which the homeward movement of the majority of the Rhine contingent is now in progress.

Secretary Weeks said that the operation of two army transports, now being employed in the return of the troops had been ordered continued up to July 1, by which date all of the force would have been withdrawn from the Rhine.

The action of the war department was merely a continuation of policy previously announced for withdrawing the American forces from the Rhine territory as early as possible, Mr. Weeks said. It was indicated that the status of army legislation in congress in no way affected the department's decision and also that the controversy over payment by Germany for the maintenance of the Rhineland troops was not involved.

WON'T ALLOW RULE SUSPENSION FOR BALLOT ON BONUS

GILLET REFUSES TO ENTERTAIN IDEA, ANNOUNCEMENT.

HARDING PASSIVE

President Harding declines any recommendation, in view of past stand.

Washington.—The charge that President Harding and Secretary Mellon "bought" a bribe to postpone the vote on the bonus bill is their efforts to establish as a part of our revenue system the vicious policy of a general sales tax, is made in a minority report on the bonus bill, introduced Monday by Representative Kitchen, North Carolina, ranking democrat of the ways and means committee, and four other minority members of that committee.

The report attacks the bank loan provision and declines in favor of cash payments to the veterans. It proposes the legislation be financed by re-enactment of the excess profits tax with a specific exemption of $50,000 and a restoration of the 60 per cent war time income surtax rate.

Washington.—Speaker Gillett announced Monday he would not entertain a motion to suspend house rules. As to the bonus bill, he said he would not debate the house with a restriction on debate and without opportunity for amendments.

President Harding told republican house leaders Monday that in view of his position on the bonus bill, he would not debate the house with a restriction on debate and without opportunity for amendments.

TO RATIFY TREATY WITH A MARGIN OF 3 TO 5 VOTES

PRESIDENT WILSON HAS NOT COME OUT WITH
EXPECTED OP-POSITION.

FINAL TEST SOON
Democrats Back of Underwood
Will Stick to Treaty Support.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janeville Gazette.
Washington—The four power pact will be ratified by a margin of from three to five votes.

The expected eleventh hour pronouncement from Woodrow Wilson against the Pacific treaty will not materialize, though it is known he absolutely is opposed to the principle of the treaty.

This information comes from Democratic sources today amounts to a concession that the treaty will be ratified, though of course, in such a close situation, a change of a vote or two may affect the whole aspect of things.

The attempt to draw Woodrow Wilson into the controversy is one of the interesting phases of the treaty fight which has not yet been fully settled. Division of opinion has prevailed among Democratic senators as to whether the former president should express himself on the subject and assist in defeating ratification.
Some Democrats have felt that Mr. Wilson ought to speak out. Others have counseled silence on the ground that the former president cannot change the situation in the senate and that his public speeches are a record of his attitude anyhow.

Mr. Wilson's Hands Off
One of two senators have had an opportunity lately of learning Mr.
Wilson's views but they have failed to tell associates what to do and the consensus of opinion on the Democratic side of the Senate is that the former president has decided to keep his hands off his party colleagues and let them decide the question for themselves.

Mr. Wilson's silence has had the effect of dividing his friends. Some of them, like Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, are going to vote for the four power treaty because in their opinion it is an alliance. Others will vote against it because they seem to be in alliance with a few powers as against other nations.
They favored an alliance or league of all nations but not a special combination in which the United States is in harmony with the league. Nor-don, who was to have been
Mr. Wilson's appointee to the reparation commission, feels that the four power pact is the old issue of alliance and is directly opposed to the idea of the league of nations.

The best information available in Washington from reliable sources is that Mr. Wilson's attitude is that he feels today as he did in December, 1918, when in Manchester, England, he leveled a broadside at the European idea of regional alliances. He said on that occasion:
"You know that the United States has always felt from the very beginning of her history that she must keep herself separate from any kind of connection with European politics and I want to say very frankly to you that she is not now interested in European politics. But she is interested in the partnership of right between America and Europe."

Not His Pot League
Mr. Wilson's views on the four power pact now pending are not unfriendly to the object sought to be attained, namely the preservation of the peace. The four power pact is in harmony with the league of nations but he has feared that the method of grouping a few powers in any combination designed to protect them against the aggression of another power or group of powers would lead only to the establishment of rival ententes and alliances such as have divided the world and brought on wars in the past.

Making Whiskey Out of Garbage and Cheating the Pigs

(By Associated Press.)
Name, Pa.—Federal agents who raided the supposed pigsty of Andy Orzechowski on the outskirts of the city, declare they found the place to be a well equipped distillery, and portions of garbage its owner had gathered from the refuse cans of the city had gone into the manufacture of whiskey and not into hog troughs.

Fifty gallons of carbage-distilled whiskey were seized, with 100 gallons of prepared mash. Most of the whiskey shipped to the place was being shipped to Pittsburgh,
the federal agents say.

Home Building Is on Increase

(By Associated Press.)
Washington—Marked stimulation
in home building is shown in contracts awarded during the last three months as reported to the division of building and housing of the department of commerce. The department announced Monday.

The department's quarterly report for the first quarter of 1922
announced Monday.

In December totalled $101,000,000
and in January and February $75,000,000 each. Although normally it is pointed out these are the months of least activity in building, their contract totals compare with a monthly average of $73,000,000 in 1921.

BUILDING MATERIALS AT LOWEST POINTS IN MANY YEARS

swearing some who remark the state bought 400,000 barrels of cement at $1.30, he points out it also purchased a huge amount of lumber. A kiln near the mill which will bring it up to $2.50 when delivered on the job while the retail price is $2.80.

Brick, according to Mr. Dane, is 15 percent lower than last year.
Janeville has an adequate supply of all building supplies, says Mr.
Dane. If, however, a coal strike should go into effect and it cost for any length of time, it would be a scarce article, although there is plenty here now. This will be due to the use of coal screenings in making cement.

Advantage to Build.
Says J. S. Field of the Field Lumber company: "Prices are down to a point where it is advisable to build.
They are as low or almost as low as they can be and are likely to stay there for some time. There might be a slight rise in the near future but there that might come down a bit."

Cement he holds is down without question. He points out the state could not get as much as it wanted and only one mill would accept the state's price.

"Lumber is at bottom," says Mr. Field. "Fifty mills having a uniform cost system of accounting reported on the United States side a loss of slightly over $2 a thousand feet for 1921 on their complete line. Thirty mills on the British Columbia side reported a loss of $2.73 a thousand."

Lumber Prices Set by Coast
The Pacific coast, this dealer says, now sets the price on all common lumber because the greatest amount now comes from there. The prices of lumber in the United States are determined by the prices on the coast.
As to the cry that freight rates are too high, Mr. Field declares any reduction would not be sufficient to bring down the price of lumber. He points out, "to work against their losses." In his mind the market has an upward tendency and is strong whereas in the past it has been weak.

Plaster and Brick Mr. Field reports no change in the price of plaster. Brick, he says, is down and he thinks it will not go lower because, by now, it has been liquidated, although it took longer than some other products. This was due, he asserts, because the great expense of making brick is in coal and labor. While labor has been adjusted, coal is only now down to the new basis.

Supplies of building materials are "absolutely adequate" in Janeville.
There is a lot of talk that a demand would create a shortage, explains Mr. Field, "but I don't take any stock in that. There might be a shortage under such conditions, but it would not be for long. I don't see any heavy demand, but a regular market. Although building permits are up," he says, "the farmer, who uses the bulk of lumber, is coming back very slowly."

Janeville prices have recently been readjusted downward.
Albert Schaeffer's Opinion.
Asked if he considers the present a good time to build from the standpoint of the cost of materials, Albert Schaeffer, of Schaeffer & McKee Lumber company, replies: "It surely is.
It is as good now as it will be for some time to come."

The only thing that might cause lumber to go up, he says, is a demand for it which would come from the cost of lumber. Such a reduction cannot come, he believes,
until the railroads are readjusted.
Supplies, in any combination, are 40 per cent less than a year ago, according to William McVicar of McVicar Brothers. Pipe fittings and nipples, he asserts, have dropped 20 to 40 percent and

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:
The women in Blackhawk addition,
and on Ringold street do not have to the most popular for excitement, as the cars and trucks in this neighborhood being stuck in the mud, furnish all the spectacular thrills needed to vary the monotony of life. Seven or eight trucks stranded in the mud holes in one day is nothing unusual, and broken axles, on cars belonging to the neighborhood, are common events. It may be necessary to carry coal in baskets for fuel, as coal trucks are almost invariably stuck in the mud, and grocery wagons have to stop sometimes blocks away from their destination with their goods, and deliver on foot. Women of the neighborhood who have appealed to authorities at the city hall for relief, have been told to "wait still after election." They are planning to speak their mind on election day, and not wait till after.

Eastward Ho!

Eastward the Star of Fashion takes its way!
Paris—and New York—
have discovered fresh founts of inspiration in Bulgaria, Russia and Japan—proving once more the universality of art in dress. From the colorful and barbaric notes of the Near and Far East, the cultivated genius of France and America has created harmonies exquisitely expressive of the feminine sense of the fitness of things.

American women, ever eager for new ideas, are taking the orientation of 1922 fashions to their hearts—demanding as always, those modifications and refinements of the parent types, that make them the smartest
as well as the most sensibly-dressed group in the world.

Are you taking full advantage of the Fashion
service of this store—
by visiting it often?

40,000 KRONEN FOR PINEAPPLE

Vienna—A man walked into the bar of one of the big hotels the other after-table. "One pound sterling or 40,000

chaotic idea of values prevalent here."
An Austrian smiled it gratefully, remarking: "It's the first one I have

Must remove it daily Dental science has long been seeking a daily film combatant. Now two effective methods have been found. Authorities have proved them by many careful tests.

A new-day tooth paste has been perfected, to comply with modern requirements. And these two film combatants are embodied in it. The name of the tooth paste is Pepsodent.

Millions of people of some forty races now employ it daily, largely by dental advice.

Pepsodent brings two other effects which authorities now deem essential.

Why teeth look dingy Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue.
It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. It dims and may ruin teeth.

Ordinary tooth pastes do not effectively combat it. So film-coats have been almost universal.

PHIL LA FOLLETTE FOR GOVT OWNERSHIP

we progressives are destroying the home and are bolshevists. How are we ordinary common people to meet that? Get together and have meetings and discuss it we cannot use the newspapers."

Membership Drive
He said the LaFollette organization is not a campaign committee but is putting on a membership drive and will use its concerted strength. While the United Progressives have no dues, he pointed out the LaFollette have no money and therefore must charge $1.50 a year. Urging continuation of meetings in Janesville such as that of Sunday, he explained the progressive movement in Wisconsin is being by men of clean vision to perpetuate the principles of the common mass of men against concentrated efforts of one class to monopolize.

Phil La Follette on Railroads.
In a long discussion in which he said he does not believe any economic factor more important than the railroad situation, Phil La Follette declared the roads have been "milking the people." He insisted "watered valuations" are given the Interstate Commerce commission upon which giving figures by which the claimed the railroads are overvalued 10 billion dollars. He denounced the Esch-Cummins railroad law.

He declared the rental paid the roads during the war was 175 million dollars, being based upon the average returns of the three highest years in American railroad history. Refuting the argument that the roads were badly managed and repairs neglected, he said, the billions of dollars spent for the railroad equipment was spent by the railroad managers themselves, and therefore if badly spent the railroad men are responsible.

In six months of return to railroad control, the roads ran up a deficit of $550,000,000 and the government paid it and that was the reason for the 1250 increase in freight rates. A billion was the amount to 7 billion when the public finally paid them. He asserted 750 millions were paid by the government for equipment which just equals the government deficit which the roads have accumulated estimated in 1916 that "is just what the road themselves would have spent."

He condemned the control of the roads by the bankers and declared the roads are "milking the people." He pointed out Congress in 1914 passed a criminal act making it an offense for the director of one road to be director of another but each year since the roads have managed to delay having the act put into effect.

With figures showing the cost of living in 1930 being 21.65 against wages of 189, he was greeted with applause.

MYERS IS PACKED FOR BAND CONCERT

Reorganized Bower City Band With 36 Pieces Gives Fine Program.

That Janesville audiences appreciate good music was shown again at the community concert given at the Myers theatre by the Bower City band, Sunday afternoon when crowds of people were turned away from the doors or sent into the gallery long before the hour for the concert. It was a real band of 36 pieces that faced the audience when the curtain was raised on the opening number, "Hosts of Freedom" with the new director, Burr W. Tolles, in charge. There was a smoothness and finish about their concerted effort, the result of painstaking practice, and the instrumentation was adequate and excellent.

Perhaps the best effect was found in the second Potpourri, "Joy to the World," given with brilliancy and precision.

Henry Burch from the Holton-Elliott band was shown solo, "Rock of Ages," and responded with "Kilbuck" as an encore number. His execution was faultless.

Searles Christmas gave a trombone solo, "Down on the Farm" with an ease and sureness of tone which was remarkable.

"Opera Land," the closing selection, consisted of bits of melody from famous old operas, and made a fitting close to the well balanced program. It was the kind of music that people love, and they thoroughly enjoyed the whole program. There were no tire-some waits between numbers, the selections all being placed in one hour. The splendid acoustic properties of the opera house added much to the concert.

Manager Charles G. Boutin is to be commended for his public spirit in donating the use of the Myers theatre for the event. The band has shown proper community enterprise in providing a free concert for the people.

HOUSEWIVES HERE START DRIVE TO EXTERMINATE RATS

A crusade against house rats is under way here, judging from the number of requests made by Janesville residents to the Bureau of the Gazette Information Bureau at Washington, D. C., for free instruction books on how to exterminate rodents. A total of 25 applications were received in one week. Twenty-two other pamphlets were mailed out by Mr. Haskin.

The Northwestern railroad has $402 miles of main track, one inquirer is informed by the Bureau.

Denatured alcohol may not be used in the preparation of camphor, another questioner is advised, and also, cream rises to the top of milk more quickly when the room is cold, because the butterfat forms more quickly.

The 6th and 7th Books of Moses have nothing whatever to do with the Christian bible, says Mr. Haskin in response to another inquiry. They were published anonymously in Germany in the sixteenth century and are books of magic arts and charms, using passages of scriptures, psalms, as amulets and preventives of disaster.

Who would a Civil war soldier be entitled to a pension if married to him previous to June 27, 1905 and a widow may be pensioned if her husband's death was due to injury, regardless of date of marriage, states the Bureau in answering a fourth query. "A child cannot claim payment for the care of a pensioner but the pensioner may be allowed for an increase if so disabled he requires constant services of an attendant. A child could not secure the parent's money."

RURAL FLAPPER IS AS DIFFICULT AS CITY MISS, CLAIM

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago.—While she may not perfume the palms of her hands or rouge her bare knees, the rural flapper is as difficult to handle as her city mid-town sister, Mrs. Stella Shepley, chairman of the probation extension committee, speaking before the Illinois Probation Officers.

"The wave of delinquency that has gone over the country, the last few years has I believe reached its crisis," Mrs. Shepley said. "It has been worse in the country than in the cities. Intelligent handling of the problem will minimize it. We want you, medal young people more than we want gold medal cattle and pigs."

A juvenile protection officer for each county would aid in keeping 'em down on the farm," she believed.

BOONE BIRTHPLACE IN PENNSYLVANIA IS FALLING TO PIECES

[By Associated Press.]

Reading, Pa.—The birthplace of the elements it has withstood for 113 years, the stone house in the foothills of Exeter township, Berks county, where Daniel Boone, the Kentucky pioneer, was born, is falling to ruin from lack of care. Until two years ago, the house had been tenanted and the necessary repairs made, but now it is deserted, the ceiling full of water, the windows broken, doors decaying and the 150 acres of estate are uncared for.

The farm is situated about one and a half miles from Stonersville. The land leading to the premises is made up of a large white rock placed by the Historical Society of Berks county, on which is the inscription: "One quarter mile to the birthplace of Daniel Boone."

According to history Boone stayed here until he was 17 years of age, when he went to Kentucky.

SIX FILE PAPERS ON OPENING DAY

Badger, Menzies, Hilt, First in for Alderman—Hemmens to Run in Second.

Announcement of Alva L. Hemmens, general agent here of the Northwestern railroad, that he will run for the one-year term of alderman from the second ward, and the filing of nomination papers for six candidates for various offices, were Monday's developments in city politics.

Mr. Hemmens seeks to fill out the unexpired term of the late George Smith, now being served by Louis Kerstel who has not yet announced his candidacy for reelection. W. W. Menzies will seek re-election for the two-year term from that ward.

First in Race
The six whose nomination papers had been filed up to 1 p. m. Monday were:

F. L. Badger, 1021 North Washington street, former alderman, for alderman of the first ward.
W. W. Menzies, 21 North Wisconsin street, for alderman for the second.

F. C. Grant, 303 Cornelia street, for school commissioner of the second.

W. H. Hilt, 213 Riverside street, former alderman, for alderman of the fourth.

Frank Irit, 512 Lincoln street, for constable of the fifth.

In addition a portion of the nomination papers of City Treasurer W. J. Lennart were left with City Clerk E. J. Sartell.

Many Seek Mail Ballots
Having received several requests for ballots from Janesville voters spending the winter in California and Florida, Mr. Sartell hopes to have ballots printed in time for mailing Friday or Saturday. The period for filing nomination papers ends at 5 p. m. Thursday.

Election laws provide that voters expecting to be unable to visit the polls on election day April 4, owing to illness or absence from the city, may make application for ballots not more than 20 nor less than 3 days before election, or if application is made during the office hours of the day prior, doctors' certificates must be filed when illness is claimed. All votes by mail must be sworn to before a notary public, and they must be sent to the city clerk not more than 25 nor less than 3 days before election. People asking ballots in advance are asked to specify wards in which they live.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hall, now in Florida; Miss Gertrude Cobb and Miss Ida Harris, visiting in California; and Mrs. A. P. Loveloy, in Washington, are among those who have applied for ballots, seeking to have a voice in the referendum on city management.

If the "northwester" of Monday prevails for the next two days, don't expect to change the heavy underwear or empty the coal bin. It is going to be a cold and backward spring if the wind stays in the north for three days, according to the sheriff.

"The winds on the 20, 21 and 22 set the weather for the following three months," declares the sheriff. "If the wind shifts to the south for the next three days then the spring will be fine—but watch out if it remains in the north or west."

Spring is a cold handshaker. March winds with cold rain and hail and light snow prevailed Sunday and Monday. The mercury played around 30 above.

No damage was felt in this section but much trouble was experienced to the north.

MILTON PRINTER SUED FOR LIBEL

Former Employee of William K. Davis Asks $2,000 for Alleged Slander.

William K. Davis, Milton printer, is defendant in a $2,000 slander action filed in the Rock county circuit court by H. A. Poole, a former foreman in the Davis printing shop, who says four years of action in the World War under British colors. The complaint in the case was filed Monday by Attorney M. F. Richardson.

Three causes of action are stated, one for a typewritten bulletin it is alleged Davis posted in his shop; the second for a letter and the third, verbal statements regarding the plaintiff.

The defendant is charged with having maliciously composed and published the poster bulletin placed in the printing room after the defendant left this poster, it is alleged, was "false and defamatory."

The part of the poster objected to by Poole follows: "Some weeks ago a man named James B. Cullen, who was a foreman and now bookkeeper. Through a leak in the office the foreman learned he was slated for dismissal. He then started a campaign to disorganize the employees and to ruin the standing of the company with its customers. His policy has been one of rule or ruin." The term "potty spite" was also used in the poster.

The second cause of action is over a letter alleged to have been sent by Davis to D. Hill Nursery company in Dundee, Ill., containing "false and defamatory matter about the plaintiff."

Among the false statements detailed in the complaint is that Davis claimed the plaintiff "turned the printing shop into a carnival in the absence of the defendant."

FAMOUS FASHION HOUSE BANKRUPT

Receivers Are Appointed for Lucille, Limited, of N. Y., Paris.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Lucille, Limited, dressmakers of New York and Paris, was filed here Monday listing liabilities at $175,000 and assets at $35,000. Federal judge Knox appointed J. K. Cuddy and G. H. Tolman joint receivers.

The house for years has been one of the most prominent in the creative fashioning of gowns and other wearing apparel for women. The proceedings were friendly, it having been decided Saturday at a meeting of creditors to permit the house to continue its business and to arrest all action by others. It was announced Lady Duff-Gordon of Paris, its financial and creative head of the business, Lucille, Limited, is still doing business, a large number of people and will continue.

Last year, Lucille's clientele bought less than half of what was purchased from the firm during 1921 and it was this swift depression that brought about the trouble, the statement said.

800-Oratorio Tickets on Sale

But three more rehearsals for "Statut Mater" remain before the oratorio is given at the Congregational church Tuesday night, April 4, so it is now necessary for each person in the large chorus to be present at each rehearsal. The attendance has been good so far and for Sunday's practice, at the Y. M. C. A. there was a good turnout. The practice next Sunday will be at the Y. M. C. A. and a week from then at the church. The oratorio will be held in the church with the two artists who are to have solo parts, Miss Selma Gogg soprano and Arthur Kraft, tenor.

Eight hundred tickets have been placed in the hands of the members of the chorus. Attendance will be limited to this number, to avoid such a crowd as at the Methodist church. The handling of the audience will be better organized than for the Messiah. Men-users have been appointed.

Your Money Back For The Asking

Just think of losing $191,000 in 23 days. Worse yet, this sum was dropped in a company which made the ridiculous promise of a return of 52%.

Where your savings are concerned think first of their safety. You may be absolutely sure that there is a big risk involved when an unreasonable rate of interest is promised.

This bank pays only a reasonable rate of interest on savings deposits but guarantees their return for the asking.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

George Morton goes to work at the home of Planter, a rich man, who has lost all his property in a horse business. George becomes a horse trainer and as a part of the job he goes to Sylvia Planter who is the daughter of Planter. She is thrown from her horse and thinking her unconscious, George kisses her, calling out that he loves her. She drives him from the place and George thrashes her brother, who goes to horsewhip him, but in a fair fight, he knocks him down. Sylvia, who is a student at a boarding school, meets Bailey, a tutor, gets a place on the football team and aids his college to win from Harvard. He has determined that Sylvia Planter shall marry him, and seemingly widening the breach between them. But she continues in the department of Sylvia Planter is very kind to George, and at her home meets her friend, Sylvia, which is embarrassing. George gets a job with a broker, and he cures a high social position. But Sylvia still flirts him. He is a student at a boarding school who proves to be a scoundrel. Dalrymple, George goes to training camp and is forced to fight over seas.

"He spoke softly, without any apparent passion, but he displayed before the man in the chair his two hands."

"If necessary I'd stop you marrying Sylvia Planter with the idea."

"Dalrymple got to his feet, struggled to assume a cloak of bravado."

"Won't put up with such threats. Actionable."

"Give me your decision," George said.

"Will you keep away from her?" If there is really an understanding, will you so arrange things that she can destroy it immediately. Come. Yes or no?"

"Give me that."

"He shrugged his shoulders."

"I needn't trouble you."

"He walked swiftly to the door, unlocked it, and drew it invitingly wide; but now that the way was clear, Dalrymple hesitated. Again George advanced his shoulders and stepped to the hall. Dalrymple, abruptly active, ran after him, grasping his arm."

"Where are you going?" he whispered.

"To Lambert's room."

"Not tonight," the other begged. "I don't admit you could make any real trouble, but I want to spare Sylvia any possible unpleasantness. Well! Don't you, too? You lost your temper, maybe. I did mine. Give us both a chance to think it over. Now see here, Morton, I won't ask you another favor, and I'll do nothing in the meantime. I couldn't very well, I mean status quo, and all that."

"Sylvia is going away for more than a month."

"But you could always get hold of him at a pinch," Dalrymple urged. "Heaven knows, I don't like to tell Sylvia about what you've said. Let us both think it over until Lambert comes back."

George sighed, experiencing a glow of victory. The other, however, measured the power of his ammunition; and George didn't want to go to the Planter on such an errand as long as any other means existed. The more Dalrymple thought, the more thoroughly he must realize George had him. From the first George had manoeuvred to avoid the necessity of shocking habits of thought and action that were inherent in the Planter, so he gladly agreed.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINTS

Breakfast—Orange, Cereal and Cream, Buckwheat Cakes and Honey, Coffee.

Luncheon—Omelet, Hot Biscuit, Fruit Salad, Tea.

Dinner—Meat Pie with Biscuit Crust, Creamed Cauliflower, Lettuce or Green Beans, Steamed Graham Pudding with Foamy Sauce, Coffee.

RECIPES FOR THE DAY

Biscuits—The quick flour, one large tablespoon lard, one teaspoon salt, three teaspoons baking powder, three tablespoons sugar, enough water or milk to make a soft dough, then brush with milk. Don't work biscuits or they will be tough.

Steamed Graham Pudding—Mix well together one-half coffee cup of molasses, one-quarter cup of butter, one egg, one-half cup of milk, one-half teaspoon of baking soda, one and one-half cups of graham flour, one small cup of raisins, spices to taste, one-half teaspoon of salt. Steam four hours.

Foamy Sauce—One cup sugar and two heaping tablespoons butter, one heaping tablespoon flour, cook till thick and add a little grated nutmeg and vanilla; the last thing take it from the fire and stir in the beaten whites of two eggs.

For economy's sake it would be well to use the two yolks of the eggs in the pudding and the whites in the sauce, adding a trifle more milk to make up the wetting.

Chicken Gelatin—Chicken gelatin made in this way is a tempting dish. Dress a three-pound chicken and boil until it is tender, without jointing it. Stick a small onion with two or three cloves and when the chicken is partly done add it with a little parsley, a stalk of celery, a bay leaf and a little mace to the liquid. When the chicken is tender remove the meat from the bones and remove the fat and skin and gristle. Skim all the fat from the liquid and strain it. Add salt to it and boil it down to a quart. Soak one cup of gelatin in one cup of cold water, add to hot stock. Pour half an inch of this liquid in the bottom of a mould and let it harden. Then spread over a layer of the white meat of the chicken and sprinkle it with diced tender celery. Melt the remaining liquid and pour another half-inch layer over the chicken. Add a layer of dark meat garnished with olives and another layer of jelly.

SUGGESTIONS

Instead of wasting time and strength trying to polish an old coal or gas range just give it a coat of stovepipe enamel and it will look like new.

If when you run a silver knife through jelly it wrinkles it is done.

Small breaks in hot water bottles can be mended with adhesive plaster.

Use borax in tepid water with a little soap to wash silk handkerchiefs.

When making colored shirts save the pieces for trimming cotton dresses.

Slices of cold beef very thin and arrange on a warm platter. Just before serving pour a hot meat sauce or gravy over it. If the beef is reheated and allowed to stand over fire in the gravy it becomes tough.

TINKER PLAYS WITH LITTLE DAVID

"Isn't it wonderful," said Tinker Bob, "to be able to see a lion in his own house?" My, how many folks would be afraid to go to a lion's house and ask to be admitted. Tinker was not like others, he wanted to see just the kind of a place where baby lions were raised.

"Can I go inside your house?" he asked of Mr. Lion.

"Sure you can go inside, and do whatever you want," was the reply. "But maybe Mrs. Lion might have something to say about it." Then there was heard a growling sound from far back in the cave. Silky knew that it was not the sound of friendliness and he withdrew from the entrance. "Tim, the little Bitch, knew that it didn't sound like an invitation to dinner. But it didn't worry Tim any for he was too big and clumsy to get in the entrance anyway. He just sat down and let his trunk rest on the ground."

"That growl doesn't sound like I was welcome," said Tinker Bob.

"I will explain to Mrs. Lion and then she will be all right," Mr. Lion went into the cave and there was a sound of growls and he came out saying that it would be all right for the King to enter.

Tinker Bob entered the cave looking about on every side as he proceeded. Of course it wasn't like the house he had in the forest, where Major Pole, Cat and Chief Porky could come and go when they wished. It was a great dark hole in the side of a mountain, and it seemed to Tinker to be endless. The floor of the home was solid rock, and no light came in only that which found its way through the entrance.

"I wouldn't want to live in a place like this," said Tinker Bob.

not felt since he left the old forest. To be sure Jack, the Rabbit, has a soft head but it was not the shape of this one. This felt more like Snoopy, the Bob Cat.

"Well, what is your name?" asked Tinker, but you know, the little fellow wasn't old enough to tell him. Then Mr. Lion spoke up. "His

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes

THE SERIOUS GIRL

I do not know why brown-eyed girls are supposed to be serious and blue-eyed ones frivolous. Most of the cleverest and most intellectual women I have met have had blue or grey eyes, and yet it seems almost universally believed that the blonde type is frivolous and the brunette sober and serious.

Most serious minded girls long for marcelled hair and frivolity of mind; yet there is no type more charming than the serious type.

The serious girl is so reliable. Women friends know they can trust her. Men friends find in her a companion for more moods than the frivolous one proper for an evening's entertainment. The serious girl is never the belle of the party. Usually she regrets this and unconsciously envies the light-hearted laugh of the evening's favorite.

She knows she is not the sort to be the belle of the ball. If she is wise she knows she does not have to be. She will make few friends but those she has will stay with her. It is the most unfortunate characteristic of the butterfly type that while she attracts men and women by the dozens, the attraction is rarely lasting. She has little to give them but the moment's pleasure so she draws to herself those who only wish the pleasure of

This is a charming type. The moment. But the serious girl has a ready and unswerving friendship to offer a few, and the few will always respond.

Anders—Very young girls are often over developed in some parts of the body, which only means that the balance of their development has been retarded. A few more years of growth will round out the whole body into perfect proportions; so at present it would not be sensible to try to reduce any particular part.

Dinner Stories

A steamship engineer having bought a box of very poor cigars from a Cuban peddler, thought to get rid of them by handing them out to members of his department. One of the wipers came on deck for fresh air after three hours of strenuous work below.

"Here, wiper, have a few cigars; but don't smoke them," said the engineer.

"Why, chief, what's the big idea?"

"Pass them on to your enemies."

"Thanks, chief. Smoke all three on me."

For days Anne had been seeking employment. Work of any description, her pride was but a shred of its former self.

Anne, chilled and despondent, was slowly walking up one of the side streets, hungrily staring into the windows. In one of the windows appeared a placard—"Waitress Wanted."

Eagerly Anne entered and nervously inquired for the manager. "The manager," she asked, "is out."

"Well, what can I do for you?"

"The sign in the window says you want a waitress and I'd like to have the job."

"Have you had any experience? Do you think you are able to carry, without accident, heavy trays of food, people moving all around you? Can you be courteous under—"

"See, mister, interrupted Anne, "I've been earth in cafeterias for the last three years. Ain't that experience enough?"

Rapid Transit, last Saturday's street car feature, registered a slight decline. In general, price changes were higher, especially steel, copper and tin. The market for rails showed quotations for leading foreign brands were comparable under the week's final prices. The market for iron and steel showed a moderate improvement, especially in the case of the former.

Prominent industrialists reacted 3 points in the later dealings with the market, and the day's trading cancelled part of their gains.

FORTUNE FICKLE
IN GREAT FIGHT;
MADISON IS THIRD

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR
It is rumored Alva (Rowdy) El-Hott, Muscoda, captain of the University of Wisconsin basketball team, has been offered a contract to go with a big league ball club at $400 a month at the end of the school year. According to reports reaching the writer, it is safe to predict he will accept. When Rowdy played outfield with the Samson Tractors here two years ago, he showed himself as the fastest man on the team.

A short time now and the operators of baseball pools will again be active. Janesville will not be overlooked and the gambling fever will be in full bloom here this season. This is one of the worst enemies of baseball, but from the fact it evades the law should be nipped in the bud.

The manner in which both the Whitewater Normal and the Milton college basketball tournaments were conducted, in which every courtesy was given teams, coaches, press and spectators, is commendable. Coach Smith was a big help to newspapermen at the Bolot meet but teams complained of lack of attention.

Discussing playgrounds Mrs. Livingston, former physical instructor at Excelsior, Minn., told the writer how they raised money to build an outdoor swimming pool in that mining town. A big day was put on each year representing the purchase of a bar of cement. In the winter, the pool was used as an ice rink. City water flowed through the pool, which was built in a ravine. Janesville, please take note.

The press—which means the public—is being kept in ignorance of what action the Big Ten athletic officials took upon professionalism in their week-end meeting. All the information given out is that officials who handled professional games will be heard. It says but that was all that was done and the directors don't care to admit their inability to cope with the situation. Otherwise, why should they be afraid to talk?

C. R. Allen's Mulebier won the $20,000 Cofferth Handicap at Los Angeles.

Scouting team, St. Louis, defeated the Brooklyn Todds for the U. S. soccer title, 2-2.

Frank Steinhardt's Frank S. won the $10,000 Cuban produce stake.

Georges Carpentier signs to meet any Jack Britton or French heavy at Paris not later than September.

At Baseball Camps—Lancis will make Tampa his training trip headquarters. Steve League enthusiasts have stopped shouting for the Giants and Yankees. The White Sox have taken much of the breeze out of the McGraw snail winning again Sunday 12-6. The St. Louis Cards trimmed the Yankees 12-10, despite Ruth, Hoyt, Moss et al. Brooklyn defeated Louisville 5-0 due to Reuther's pitching. The Mackmen drubbed San Antonio, 9-5. The Cubs won from Vernon with Sutz and Miller showing great.

Red Wing defeated Madison for the Minnesota state high school basketball title, 34-27.

Illinois swept the Big Ten track and field meet with 44 5-7 points; Wisconsin was second with 13 11-21, while Ohio beat Iowa out.

The shabby combination of short passes, dribbles and bounce work took winners for the Evansville team, but Lady Luck smiled with glee when numerous shots plunked into the basket and jumped right out again.

Milton Union loses. In the preliminary game for third place, Milton Union played hard and fast but was hardly a match for the speedy Madison High school troupe who were victors, 22 to 13. Both sides appeared tired from the long vigil of the two previous days. Walsh was the individual star.

Members of the Janesville and Milton Union teams rooted for Evansville high to capture the place of first place.

Some 1500 spectators saw the final battles, Evansville sending 400 and its band.

Unfortunately for high school athletics, quite a bit of money for betting was in evidence.

One lad slept in a bath tub Friday night, others upon chairs, unable to find accommodations, they said. Probably because they were broke.

Madison rooters were so loyal they stole rides on the trains if they had no money for carfare. The favorite way was to turn the backs of two seats together and hide the "beat" beneath them covering the opening with suit cases.

Girls of the domestic science department of the normal made the blanket awarded Milton Union for conduct and appearance.

ed revival of onslaught by the Badgers, which carried through Coach Edwards' squad like a sharp knife through tissue. Four fields goals went crashing into the pocket with the Evansville boys helplessly trying to recognize the shots which had been which they had previously wiped all before them.

Hard Game to Lose. It was a heartbreaking defeat, one of which Evansville should be proud. It was no wonder two members of the squad wept tears from their eyes as their valiant rooters crowded round to offer praise for their marvelous work.

It was that captured the title, took it on merit. This team that lost dropped on merit. It was the greatest meet held at Whitewater in recent years. Opening with a great flash of speed, the game carried through until the final whistle in a continuous series of sensations. Fifteen times the score was tied. Thirteen times "Dad" Roberts, Evansville, led the count, while in favor of one and then for the other squad. At the quarter, the count was 8 to 7 for Evansville. At the half, University High was up 13 to 12. When the third quarter closed, Evansville was back in the lead, 17 to 16. As luck zig-zagged, roars of lusty cheers came first from one gallery and then the other with the Evansville band getting in its share of trumpets.

Evansville Scored First. Evansville drew first blood with Roberts' free throw. Wisconsin came back with a field goal. Then Evansville rung up a goal from the floor and University dumped in a goal. So it went back and forth until the unusual started. The Holzhworth University center making spectacular shots with ease from mid-floor. Suddenly Ota counted. A clear sky broke open and with wonderful snappiness the Evansville team followed it quickly with a beautiful one from far down the floor.

The Evansville defense was gone. Kenison, running free, received the ball and counted down. Two free throws and the game was over.

Until the Capital city's wild onslaught, observers credited Evansville with the better team, while Roberts, star of the Milton college tournament, repeatedly flashed with field goals, pivoting and interference, besides making eight of 11 free throws. Baruch showed extra skill around playing at center that won him a place on the all-tournament five while Baker vied with Ota for guarding honors.
